

381 BC

TUSCULUM, a town on VIA LATINA some 15 miles from Rome was the 1st Latin town to receive full Roman citizenship. It was always unswervingly loyal to Rome. CATO the CENSOR came from TUSCULUM, where his family had possessed the public house of Roman knighthood for at least 3 generations.